

KVHA News Items for Tuesday May 26, 2009

Kent, WA 26 May, 2009 – Following are some KVHA news items of interest to KVHA members. It seems like the 2008/2009 season just ended and we're already preparing for the 2009/2010 season. Coaches are being interviewed for the coming season and we hope to announce those appointments soon. In the mean time, the Robby Glantz Power Skating Clinic is scheduled for next week and we're preparing to hold tryouts for our tournament teams the following week. Details below:

Robby Glantz Power Skating Clinic – Registration is still open for the Robby Glantz Power Skating Clinic on June 5th, 6th and 7th. Please check the advertisement on the front page of www.KentValleyHockey.com (a discount could be involved if you register soon.) The session schedule is part of the Ice Schedule for the week of June 1st through June 7th.

To register for the Robby Glantz Power Skating Clinic:

- Log onto the Robby Glantz web site: www.robyglantz.com
- Find your location and register for the program.

KVHA members are encouraged to support this important local skill development program. KVHA is pleased that Robby Glantz has chosen to offer this clinic at Kent Valley Ice Centre again this year. This is the sixth year a Robby Glantz program has been offered at Kent Valley Ice Centre. Please support continuance of this valuable program by registering your hockey player today.

2009/2010 Tournament Team Tryout Registration – A registration form has been posted to www.KentValleyHockey.com for those desiring to tryout for one of KVHA's Tournament Teams.
