

Kent Valley Hockey Joins Seattle Junior Hockey and Sno-King Hockey Associations in Announcing Team Seattle

Kent Valley Ice Centre, Kent, WA. May 28, 2011

KVHA Members,

KVHA has had a busy off season so far. While the action has been fierce on the Monday night 3 on 3 sessions, many have been enjoying a brief break in the action. In the meantime, KVHA management has been busy wrapping up the season just completed and making plans for next season and beyond. Soon to be released will be an auction survey, seeking your opinions on how auction proceeds should be utilized and allocated now and in the future. In addition, Lew is working on our first "Annual Report", covering our successes both on and off the ice. Watch for these to be published in the KVHA news in the next few weeks.

We are pleased to report that Registrations have been brisk thus far, with many new families jumping in to register with our association. This influx of new members is a bit of a deviation from past trends, and we encourage you to register before June 1st so we can effectively plan for next season.

Over the last several months, KVHA has been meeting with Sno-King Amateur and Seattle Junior Hockey associations discussing the possibility of working together more cooperatively in the future. We are pleased to announce that we have reached an agreement to combine our Tier-I offerings for the coming season. "Team Seattle" will represent a 3-association effort to provide one set of Tier-I teams, rather than continuing to compete for the same players every year. For the coming season, "Team Seattle" will take the place of our Rainier's program in providing a Tier-I option for the top AAA players in our association. KVHA will continue all Tier-II and Recreational teams as we have in years past.

A "Team Seattle" flyer announcing and describing the program is available on the front page of the Kent Valley Web at www.KentValleyHockey.com. Or, you may paste the following URL into your browser:

Stay tuned for additional details and information. Until then...

See you at the rink!
