

PeeWee "Battle of the Valley" Provides Spirited In-House Competition

Kent Valley Ice Centre, Kent, WA. November 1, 2012 – Some hockey associations are large enough that they have enough teams at some age levels to create their own internal hockey league. This season, Kent Valley is only able to do that at the PeeWee level and I wouldn't call it a league; it's just two PeeWee teams that will play each other two or three times during the season for the fun of it. However, the competition is intense and has been very entertaining over the years. We like to refer to these games as the "Battle of the Valley."

When we have multiple recreation teams at any one age level, we do our best to balance them equitably so that competition is fair and enjoyable for everyone. Judging by the score of this year's first "Battle of the Valley" between the PeeWee Hurricanes and PeeWee Tornados, we've done a pretty good job of balancing skills and talent between the two teams. The Hurricanes won round one by a close score of 2 to 0. We'll be waiting for round two. I understand the Tornados are already developing their battle plan.

The Enjoyable Chaos of Kent Valley's Photo Night

It's hectic, it's crowded, it's very noisy and it's fun to watch. Someone can't find their jersey and somebody else is missing their knee pads. In one corner a parent is frustrated with his young hockey player, saying to the little guy; "How in the world did you leave home with your hockey bag all packed up and not have your skates in there?" A coach stands in the middle of a room and hollers at his noisy and rowdy charge; "I'M NOT VERY HAPPY RIGHT NOW!" And, for a brief moment the room becomes calm.

In the end, somehow, chaos becomes order and pictures get taken. It's more than pictures that are created on this night. Memories are created and time is stopped so that future observers can see how we were and what we were doing back in October of 2012. These pictures will be framed and placed around our homes and ultimately find their way into photo albums and scrapbooks to be saved for future generations to ponder.

One day, a young father will be showing his children a photo album and come upon his hockey photo and say; "That photo was taken back in October of 2012 when I was playing hockey at Kent Valley." The children's grandfather will chuckle and add; "Yeah, and he forgot to take his skates with him to the photo shoot that night."

Thanks to everyone, Rena, Danny, Coaches, Team Managers, and parents who assisted with our amazing memory creating process. Photo Night brings our hockey family together for a few hours and helps to bolster the pride we have in our youth hockey program.

"What I like about photographs is that they capture a moment that's gone forever, impossible to reproduce."

Auction Set for February 22nd, 2013

To: Kent Valley Hockey Association Members,

Well, it's that time again and the Auction is only a few months away (February 22, 2013) and we have a great night planned. We are putting on a Casino night with a silent/live auction and many more activities as well!! So I hope everyone is excited and planning to attend to help out for a good cause.

Starting November 1st we will start collecting all procurements ($75.00 value gift or $100 cash out, and $250 team gift basket). Your team manager will have procurement forms next week for you to fill out. The collection days are Monday thru Friday from 5-9pm however, you may turn your item into your team manager and they can drop the item off during the times mentioned.

Please do not drop any items off with any rink or association employees, they will not except them; per Rena.

All items need to be taken to the meeting room upstairs next to the main office and there will be someone there to accept the items during that time. The reason we are doing it this way is to insure we can secure the item and process that it has indeed been turned in. All $75 procurements are due no later than January 4, 2013 anything after that date you will be charged for the $100 cash out rate. If you have any questions you may contact me, Gina Barnett, or Amy Cook.

Now with all that said, Amy and I are looking for volunteers to help out with auction duties, the more the better. I promise most of the time you volunteer will be during you child's practice time that way it's not an inconvenience to anyone. We need help accepting the procurements and inventory of the items. Please let your team manager know if you are willing to help the association out in making this a smooth and successful Auction for KVHA!!!

I really appreciate everyone's effort and time. Again please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Squirt Tornadoes Blow Down Everett Kodiaks 2 to 1

Story Contributed by Ellen Shelden

Comcast Community Ice Rink, Everett, WA. October 27, 2012 – Inspired by their team name, the KVHA Tornadoes were hoping to “get the winds a blowing” as they faced a confident and undefeated EYH Kodiak team. A forceful wind they did stir...and one to be reckoned with! On Saturday, October 27th, the Tornadoes went up against the Kodiaks for their third league game of the season at Comcast Community Ice Rink in Everett. In a whirlwind match, the inspired Tornadoes churned it up and came out victorious with a closely matched team to get the eventual win!

Period 1 - Just as the first puck was dropped, the Tornadoes fought hard for possession of that elusive puck as they went toe-to-toe against a solid Kodiaks team during the 1st period. The electrifying battle between both teams was evident as neither team scored during the period. It was exciting to witness such a great exchange between two competitive teams! Great performance by both teams!

Period 2 - As the 2nd period opened, the Tornadoes wouldn't let the scoreless first period determine their fate in this heated contest and quickly got back to work. With strong determination, the Tornadoes struck first against the Kodiaks, scoring a swift unassisted goal from Steven Rosenquist(#5). Not to be outdone, the Kodiaks responded with a quick reply by scoring one of their own to tie-up the game. For the first time this season, and right in between plays, the Tornadoes had an unusual 5-minute potty-penalty by Cameron Steinocher(#19). As Coach Jeff Ferguson has emphasized to all the players at each event,

"we win and lose as a TEAM", and this wasn't more evident in the strong defensive coverage the team mustered while the net was left without a goalie! Awesome rally, boys!

Period 3 - The fiery battle for the puck continued well into the 3rd period. Despite being plagued with a couple penalties, the Tornados did a great job defending their net. The Tornados' defense simply overpowered the Kodiaks in their attempts to mount an attack and get back on the scoreboard. Throughout the period, the Kodiaks struggled to collect themselves against the dominance of the KVHA team – even during 2 power-play opportunities. Luckily, the Tornados did manage to net 1 more goal before the close of the period when Steven Bautista(#11), assisted by Maxwell Mudge(#15), was able to sneak one by and get the go-ahead goal for the Tornados to take the lead. Way to take advantage, boys! As a result, the Kodiaks were unable to rally enough strength to even score as the Tornados simply overpowered them and held them with their one-goal lead as the period closed.

Summary - In the end, the exciting outcome of this game favored the Kent Valley Tornados who won a thrilling one against the Everett Kodiaks in league play on Saturday. The Tornados defeated the EYH Kodiaks by a final score of 2 to 1. Way to go on the offensive pressure and keeping the puck in their zone! Goalie Cameron Steinocher(#19) put on the armor and turned away 7 of 8 shots to help his team earn this outstanding victory. Way to go, Cameron! The Tornados made a strong effort against a tough team and in the process, showed great sportsmanship for the game! Congratulations to both teams on a very exciting and entertaining game! Hopefully their next game against the Sno-King Green at home will keep them on this great path of success! Good luck, Tornados!

Midway through the third period the Hurricanes took advantage of a power play as Dylan Smith finally found a fault in Ben Fredell's defense and slipped the puck past Fredell and into the net. Smith was assisted by Trevor Mertel. The Tornados cranked up the pressure

Quote of the Day!

The True Meaning of Winning the Cup:

"Throughout the whole process of playing youth hockey, college, minor, and then into the NHL, the vision is always on you. It's about what it's going to feel like and what it's going to mean to me. That all changes when you get to take the Cup home and share it with the people who matter most, your friends and family. When I took the Cup back to my hometown of Power River, British Columbia, it changed my whole attitude. Once I saw the expressions on not only their faces but the faces of all the fans who came out to see it, and could see what it meant to them, I realized that winning the Stanley Cup wasn't necessarily about me."

Brad Bombardir, Stanley Cup winner with New Jersey 2000
